

Various generalized helices and developable surfaces

Shun'ichi Honda
Hokkaido University, Hokkaido, Japan

Abstract

We consider various generalized helices and developable surfaces. Each generalized helix is space curves which satisfies an appropriate condition. In particular, we don't assume that regularities of space curve. We will also consider developable surfaces which related to each generalized helices.